Substitution of Potatoes for Soap.

M. Cadet de Vaux proposes to wash linen by the application of potatoes only three parts boiled, instead of soap. The following is an experiment the congeniality of their pursuits and feelon this subject, made by M. Hericart de Thury, the report of which, signed by him, has been published:

The linen experimented on consisted of the clothes of adults and children, sheets, coverlids, table linen, towels, brewer's aprons, hospital linen, &c. The whole was first thrown into a tub to soak for about an hour; it was next placed in a copper of hot water, from which the pieces were taken to pared potatoes, as is usual with soap; thus prepared, and after having been and the most distant "isles of the sea. well rubbed, and wrung, it was a second time put into the copper with a after boiling for half an hour, was taken out, turned, thoroughly rubbed, wrung, and again thrown in for some minutes; it was then well rinsed in a large quantity of water, was put into cold water for half an hour, afterwards into a press to drain, and then hung up to dry. The whole time occupied was about two hours and a half; the linen was perfectly clean, free from all grease, and looked very white.

In the state of Louisiana, the cultivation of the sugar cane, for the present year, produces forty thousand hogsheads of sugar, which, at the valuation of seventy five dollars per hogshead, amounts to two millions eight thousand bales of cotton, of three hundred and fifty pounds each. This, at a valuation of forty dollars per bale, amounts to one million six hundred molasses, rice, corn, &c. have been estimated at six hundred thousand dolto each square mile, and yet such are al-ready the results. Who does not see in this, the future grandeur of the western world.

Lord Byron .- Of this brilliant meteor of the moral world, it is apparent, we shall have many memoirs furnished ere long. Among the writers of whom we have the best hope is Thomas Moore-a gentleman whose independence of spirit is only equalled by his mind. He is every way qualified to biographize his illustrious friend in addition to the documents he has in his possession for that purpose, the friendship that existed between him and Byron, and ings, guarantee that his work will present the truest image of the departed. He will write without fear, and will doubtless reap a mete harvest for his labour-the favour and reward of the literary community.

SPAIN.

The condition of Spain is wretched in the extreme. As if the oppression of the French and papal domination and foreign war and a miserable government were not calamity enough, the poor Spaniards are pepetually quarrelling among themselves. Some of the provinces are in such a state of fermentation, that the government will to order.

BRAZIL. The population of Brazil, says a writer in the Electic Review for September, according to the last census, amounted to upwards of four millions, of whom nearly one half is supposed to be free, viz: 843, 000 whites, 426,000 mullattoes, 260,000 Indians, and 160,000 free blacks. Its revenue, which, in 1818, amounted to little more than fourteen millions of francs, had risen, in 1820, to sixty-one millions, and in 1823, to sixty-six millions, and it is rapidly augmenting. Possessed of from a thousand to twelve hundred leagues of coast, with the finest ports in the world, an immense interior navigation, excellent fisheries, a geographical position peculiarly advantageous, a territory capable of affording sustenance to a population of a hundred millions, and abounding with the finest timber for ship building-with immense natural advantages, nothing but a bad government can hinder this rising empire from becoming one of the greatest maritime states in the new world. Mr. Adams cannot, by the most liberal calculation, receive more than eight votes, viz. the six New England states, together with New-York and Illinois. Salisbury:

TUESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 14, 1824.

HUTHINS G. BURTON, Esq. at present a representative in Congress from the Halifax district, was, on Thursday, the 2nd inst. elected Govern or of this state, after six ballotings. Mr. Eurton, Gen. Stokes, Mr. Moore, Dr. Baker, Gen Bryan, and Col. Avery, were in nomination.

The communications of " A. B." and of poers Soossons, on the subject of free schools, shall both have a place in our columns next week. We are much obliged to the authors for the view of the public. It having been first broached by Governor Holmes, and Treasarer Haywood, we hope that the people in every part of the state, (and especially those who have leisure and talent to illustrate the advantages to be derived from the success of the proposition,) will lend their aid and influence towards the accomplishment of a measure which promises so much for the honor and respectability of the state, and the solid advantage of the people.

It appears now almost certain, that the election of President will devolve upon the house of representatives : Jackson and Adams will be, by far, the two highest returned to the house-who will be the third, is, as yet, a mere matter of speculation. Mr. Clay has Ohio, (16) Kentucky, (14) 7 in New-York, 1 in Delaware, and (probably) 3 in Missouri-in all 41. Mr. Crawford has Virginia, (24) Georgia, (9) 4 in New-York, 1 in Maryland, and 1 in Delaware-in all 39. So that, according to this calculation, (which is as correct as we are now enabled to make it) the cancus candidate won't even get into the house of representatives. As near as we are enabled to judge, at this time, the four candidates will receive the following vote in the electoral college-how they will stand in the house of repre-entatives, requires a greater spirit of prophecy than we are master of:

Jackson,	96

TAX ON MERCHANTS.

A large meeting of the merchants of Wilmington, (in this state,) was held on the 23d ult. : the object of the meeting having been explained, a committee was appointed to draft a memorial to the Legislature, soliciting a repeal of the law, passed in the year 1822, imposing a licence tax on the stock in trade of merchants. and others therein enumerated. We have not learned whether the merchants throughout the state are disposed to second the views of those of Wilmington, or not. But we have no doubt, if the law in question is oppressive, unjust, or obnoxious to the merchants generally, the legislature will feel themselves under an obligation to repeal it. But, on the contrary, if the act is found, by the legislature, to be the most judicious that can be passed on the subject, we feel assured that that body will not be led away by the clamors of a few mercantile men.

Virginia .- On Monday, the 29th ult. the Leslature of Virginia assembled in Richmond, having anticipated their usual time of meeting one week, in order to supply any vacancy that of the Society are invited to attend. might occur in the Electoral college of that state. The former officers of both houses were re-appointed. The Governor's message was delivered on the first day of the session, and is a sound, orthodox, republican document. A letter to the editor of the Petersburg Republican, dated Richmond, Dec. 1, says: "This day, at 10 o'clock, the electors met at the capitol, and voted for Wm. H. Crawford as President, and President." Thus has Virginia thrown away her vote; for neither Crawford nor Macon can be tion of Mr Calhoun as Vice President, is as certain as any event ever was previous to its occurrence: And Gen. Jackson, should the voice of the people be respected by the representatives of the nation, is as certain of being elected President.

South-Carolina .- As many honest individuals have been induced to lend a willing ear to the improbable tales propagated by the caucus par ty, relative to the Presidential election in South Carolina, we have the satisfaction to inform such persons, that the legislature of South-Carolina. (which body appoints the Electors) met on the 22d ult; J. B. I'on was elected President of the senate, and J. B. O'Neall speaker of the house of representatives. On the evening of the 24th the members assembled in the representative hall, to the number of 157, (the whole number in the legislature, 169;) on a motion that the meeting highly approve of Andrew Jackson for President, and John C. Calhoun for Vice President, the votes stood as follows:

For Andrew Jackson,	132
Scattering,	25
For John C. Calhoun (as V. P.) Scattering,	147
here facts require no commentary.

Ricctoral Vote of Norsh-Carolina.

The Electoral College of this state convened in the Senate Chamber at this city on Wednesday last, when General Montfort Stokes was called to the chair, and Gen. Benj. H. Covington appointed Secretary. The list of Electors was called over, and, all answering to their names,

Montfort Stokes, of Wilkes; Robert Love, of Haywood; Peter Forney, of Lin-coln; Vine Allen, of Craven; James Mebane, of Orange; John Giles, of Rowan; William Drew, of Halifax; Josiah Crudup, of Wake; William Martin, of Pasquotank ; William A. Blount, of Beaufort ; Wm. B. Lockhart, of Northampton; Ed-of Guilford; A ballot was taken for President and Vice President of the United States. On examining the votes, it appeared that they were unanimously for Gen. Andrew Jackson as President, and the Hon. John C.

Calhoun as Vice President. Maj. Thomas J. Green, of Warren, was appointed to carry a certificate of the election to Washington City. The College, having gone through the business for which it assembled, adjourned. A gun for each least the property of the property son as President, and the Hon. John C. Calhoun as Vice President. Maj. Thom-Elector was then fired, and one for the county of Haywood, which had given an unanimous vote for the People's Ticket.

TAYETTYLLEF, DEC. 2.

Cotton has been steady throughout the week at our quotations, and in brink demand—since the receipt of our last Liverpool and London dates, which are to the 19th and 20th, by way of Charleston. Sales have been made to day at 12½ cts.—but much difference is made in the price of the various qualities. We are pleased to notice several loads coming in from our old friends in Mecklenburg, freder and Lincoln; we hope and believe that they will be induced by the liberal prices that are given for produce, and the cheapness of our Good, to renew the intercourse which had for the last year or two been measurably broken off!

Moral and Religious.

FOR THE WESTERN CAROLISIAN.

Mr. White: It gives me much pleasure to see a part of your paper devoted to the moral and religious improvement of your readers. Men may be well informed on political and historical subjects,-they may have greatly distinguished themselves by their literary and scientific attainments, and yet this information be extremely imperfect on one subject, and that, too, the most interesting ever addressed to man; the subject connected with his existence in a future world. I send you an extract from a commun cation of "the Prudential committee of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions." The cause of missions and that of christianity, or genuine religion, are believed, by thousands, to be indissolubly connected. 1 shall only add, that what Dr. Johnson said on another occasion can, with the strictest propriety, be applied to the subsequent extract; viz The critic ought to read it for its eloquence, the philosopher for its arguments, and the saint for its piety."

Yours, &c.

1. Christianity is designed for the religion of the whole human race .-This is manifest on every page of the New Testament; and there is not a syllable which bears a contrary import. The spirit of the Gospel is universal love. It makes no distinction of age or sex, of rank or condition, of nation civir cunfivanti.

2. The character and circumstances of the heathen prove their need of the Gospel. Their general character, as it was 1800 years ago, is drawn with frightful accuracy, and in all its shades of guilt by the great Missionary to the Gentiles, in the first chapter of his epistle to the Romans. And the populous nations of the pagan world maintain substantially the same character now. They as really need the gospel as the Greeks and Romans did 1800 years ago. The commission given to Paul by Christ himself, (Acts 26, 18) implies beyond all possibility of denial, or evasion, that, without the Gospel. the nations of the earth would remain in the grossest moral darkness, in a of the remission of their sins. In regard to temporal things, they are degraded, oppressed, rendered poor and wretched by their vices, and subjected to the domination of sinful passions; but their temporal sufferings would hardly deserve to be mentioned here, did they not furnish an awful exhibition of the tendency of human deprayity, and did they not suggest melancholy forebodings with respect to that fu-

> How lovely is the Sabbath! how rich are the hours of this hallowed day. The hum of industry breaks not in upon its peaceful moments, for man ceases from his labor to enjoy retirement and rest. The christian, abstracted from the labyrinths of business and worldly bustle and contention, enjoys, amid these holy hours, an unspeakable felicity; he awakes in the morning with new views and feelings, he looks abroad and sees nature smiling in undisturbed repose, he sees God around him, he is sensible of his omnipresence, he beholds him in the gently rustling leaf, in the radiant beams which usher with such effulgent beauty from the orient horizon; and while

"Looks thro' nature up to nature's God," his affections become enkindled, and those emotions are excited, which qualify him for the devotions, the duties and the enjoyments of this consecrated day; he goes to the sanctua-ry with that holy fervour, that pious zeal, which should characterize a soldier of Christ, and prove his attachment to his cause; he takes his seat and offers his secret ejaculation; he realizes that the Lord is in his holy temple; he joins in the prayers and praises which are borne to heaven on devotion's breath, with emotions correspondent to those important services; he listens to the instructions which are founded upon, and drawn from the sacred scriptures, with understanding and with profit; he returns to his habitation and finds himself advancing in the holy and divine life; he carries the instructions of this hely day, with his pious feelings, through the week, which contribute a salutary influence amid the din of business, by imposing a powerful restraint on the propensities of his nature, and by exciting him to the discharge of every incumbent dury. It is thus the christian spends his Sabbaths, which are like mile-stones reminding him that he is constantly drawing nearer his journey's end-the heaven of glorious rest.

Professor Grinthausen, of Munich. has published the Third Part of an Essay on the inhabitants of the Moon. Me undertakes to show, that the vegetation on the Moon's surface extends to 55 degrees of south latitude, and 65 degrees north latitude; that indications of the existence of living beings are found from 50 degrees north latitude to 37 degrees south latitude; and that there are appearances of artificial causes altering the surface. Cotton Ginning.

THE subscriber respectfully informs the merchants of the town of Salisbury, and the citizen farmers of his neighborhood, that he has just finished a large building, 32 by 52, for Ginning of Cotton, to run by water; and that he is also well fixed for packing cotton, in the neatest manner, for market. He assures his friends, who may favor him with their custom, that he will have their cotton packed and put up in the neatest manner, and in the shortest time possi-ble, and on the lowest terms at which it is done by others. He also assures those who send cot-ton to his Gin, that it will be kept separate from others, so that they will be sure to get the same cotton they send.
